

Shape Up Now for Spring and Summer

by Alicia Hart
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Rome wasn't built in a day and the figure allowed to grow dumpy through winter inactivity takes a few weeks to firm up. Start now to get yourself in shape to look best in the soft spring fashions and bare summer clothes.

Frances Friedman, a beauty expert and marketing specialist for a cosmetic firm, does not recommend a crash program. If you need to lose weight, she says to start a realistic diet for a gradual weight loss that will be more lasting. Start exercises now to firm up fleshy spots such as abdomen and thighs and to appear slimmer.

Your complexion, too, needs a refresher after a wintry beating. To pick up the complexion, begin a daily two-step plan of lubricating and color-coaxing your complexion to restore its freshness. In the morning, apply a skin cream and massage your face with upward, outward strokes. The cream acts as a cleanser and moisturizing agent, according to Miss Friedman. The massage encourages circulation of blood and helps flush out impurities that clog the skin.

This also is the time to select new make-up to coordinate with new fashion colors. Sunny, pinkish shades such as honey bisque and plush peachy blushers fit the new season's make-up look.

To slim down, pick a goal, say five pounds, and select a diet high in protein and low in starch, sugar and oil. Your doctor can suggest the right diet for you. Don't expect rapid weight loss or you will be discouraged.

To firm up problem spots, to keep your body trim and to feel better generally pick exercises that take little time. Usually these can be done while you draw your bath water or while waiting for the final spin of the washer.

Points you need to firm up include the waistline, thighs and calves, hips and stomach, cheeks and chin line, chest and shoulders.

Many women feel they get enough exercise cleaning house and picking up after youngsters. However, the strategic areas mentioned need special attention. Start now and in four weeks' time you should see and feel the difference.

Si, Oui, Ja... It's Lorne Greene

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Lorne Greene, the World's Great Father Image, has discovered the price one must pay for fame.

"There are no more beaches to lie on," he says.

Greene, as Bonanza's Ben Cartwright, is now seen in 61 foreign countries. The fantastically popular NBC-TV series is dubbed in 17 languages. In he was to walk down a street in Thailand, Ghana, Japan or Poland, he would be recognized.

In New York to promote his new RCA Victor album, "Lorne Greene's American West," and the hit single from the album, "Five Card Stud," Lorne said he and his wife, Nancy, are going to Europe in late March to pick up an award in Paris, to visit Spain, then to head for Corsica.

"Where I can spend 10 or 12 days on a beach where no one knows who the hell I am," he hopes.

"Bonanza, Lorne figures, is America's second most popular export. We are just ahead of Coca-Cola and just behind foreign aid," he said.

"The other day a friend asked me, 'Lorne, do you realize that Bonanza could be on television for the rest of our lives?' I thought about it, and he is right. We have agreed to sign five-year contracts after the original seven-year deal is up. That means the show could go on for 12 years. After that there would be 12 years' worth of network reruns, plus endless syndication. It's quite a thought."

A man who enjoys his fame and wears it well, Lorne is vitally interested in a wide range of subjects. He believes that a man "takes fate by the hand." Fate has led him from his native Canada, where he was a top announcer for the CBC to his worldwide fame as a television and recording star.

His fame has not left him jaded or caustic about his fans, however. He reads much of his fan mail, and tells of one man who wrote "the all-time tender, touching letter."

Lorne was appearing in San Francisco, when the letter came. "It was from a Polish professor, taking a post-doctorate at the University of Berkeley. He is married and has a daughter, 11, and a son, 3. They are back in Poland. He told me that he was walking down a street in San Francisco when he saw a poster advertising my appearance."

"Suddenly I saw a face from home," he wrote. He went on to tell me that, in his home in Poland, he can hear all the children playing in a nearby schoolyard on Saturdays. Then at four, when Bonanza comes on, it gets quiet as they all go home to watch."

For Morton Da Costa, Broadway producer and director ("Auntie Mame" and "The Music Man") are among his hits, this is a time of waiting unlike any other he has ever had.

By April 1, CBS must let him know whether or not he will be producing a television series next season.

His pilot is called Daphne. It stars Maureen O'Hara as a widow who has elegant clothes, lovely jewelry, high-placed friends and a sudden lack of money. She visits her brother in New Jersey, and there brings the outside world to her brother's two children.

In October, 1964, CBS "came to me about developing a property for television. I had no notion of getting into television, but I was between shows and so I thought, why not?"

But then, he had to get funds from CBS to develop the property, work with two writers on characters and plot outline, get the O.K. to go ahead with a pilot, set up offices and a full production staff, find a star, make the film, get a suitable musical score, and deliver the finished product to CBS, and then wait.

"Now it's entirely up to CBS," Da Costa said. "For the first time in my life, I'm in bondage. I'm involved in five projects for the stage and

Polly

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is in answer to Bea's request for a way to make a rug out of nylon hose. My favorite rug made out of nylons is braided and uses the whole stocking. Open the top and for the strips always sew a top to toe, folding in the heel. I braid three of these strips together. Firmly roll the hose as you braid or the rug will be soft and flimsy. When sewing these braids together to make a rug, use a braider needle and go under one whole stocking and through another with the carpet warp. When making a round rug always sew the outer braid loosely and for an oblong one sew straight on the sides and loosely on the curved ends.

I have also made hooked rugs out of nylon hose. First dye the materials in the colors required for the pattern being used. Have different shades of the same color for the best effect. Cut the hose in one-inch widths going round and round the stocking. Sew pieces together when necessary, as it might be for the background. This requires a frame and hooking needle. Shellac the back of the finished rug and apply to a burlap backing so the rug is firm.—MRS. F. L. D.

DEAR POLLY—Last year a rug made from nylons won first prize at our State Fair. Rug yarn was used to do single crochet over the old hose. That rug was round. I am making one like it and am using a whole stocking with the heels and toes trimmed off. The stockings are then sewed together.—DOROTHY

GIRLS—Our sincere thanks to the many who sent in ways for making rugs out of nylons. A few tips from some of them might be of further help.—POLLY

BEA makes sure that the three strips she uses in a braid are not the same length so the seams do not come in the same spot.

AMBER keeps her work on a table top when sewing the braids together. This makes it easier to keep the work flat. If her rug is not as flat as she likes she slips it between the bed springs and mattress and leaves it for a few nights.

Help for Work-Worn Hands

by Alicia Hart
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Poet James Russell Lowell sincerely might have believed "And blessed are the horny hands of toil." But few housewives find happiness in looking at their broken nails, grubby knuckles and reddened hands.

"With all of today's hand creams and advice, why should any woman accept such an unattractive state?"

The woman who gardens seriously but keeps her nails and cuticles trim and clean and her hands smooth shows a little care goes a long way. Many women find wearing gloves is the only way to protect hands from nicks or keep dirt from working under the nails or into the skin. Others find smoothing on a rich lubricating cream and perhaps running the nails over a bar of soap is enough protection.

The secret of more attractive hands obviously is constant care.

● Always wash hands thoroughly using warm, not hot, water.

● Scrub nails and knuckles with a brush.

● Treat any cuts or burns with antiseptic creams.

● Keep a tin of varied sizes of adhesive bandages handy to keep dirt out of cuts while gardening.

Hands, like other parts of the body, need proper exercise

Home gardeners—whether of the window box variety or vegetable garden type—are turning over the soil for a new growing season. Digging, trimming and pruning are rough on a woman's hands. Avoid broken nails and grime by protecting hands with gloves. If cuts and scratches occur, cleanse hands and apply an antiseptic first aid cream.

because they can become overtired, too. When this happens limber them up. One exercise is to make a tight fist and then stretch the fingers wide open. Clench again. Do this rapidly a few times. Also, shaking the hands limply from the wrist helps shake out aches aggravated by tension. With more attention and a little daily care, even the most harried homemaker can avoid work-worn hands.

Chaplin — A Triumphant Return

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON (NEA)

It was more of a party than a movie set. Charlie Chaplin sat down at the piano and played and the orchestra joined in. The extras, in tuxedos and evening gowns danced and laughed and applauded.

The set lent itself to the affair. They were shooting Chaplin's film—he wrote it and is directing it—called "A Countess from Hong Kong." Most of the action takes place on a luxurious ocean liner. One huge stage at Pinewood Studio had been turned into the ship's grand ballroom.

The scene had Marlon Brando dancing with a young society girl. Chaplin is writing the music for this film—he's a Charlie of all trades—and it was piped over the studio loudspeakers.

Everybody was watching. Mrs. Chaplin—Oona—was there, but that wasn't unusual. She is there every day, all day, sitting unobtrusively and keeping a wisely eye on the 76-year-old motion picture great.

Sophia Loren, Brando's costar, was watching, too, even though she isn't in the scene. So was Chaplin's son, Sydney, and the studio editors and technicians and anybody who could wangle their way onto the set.

The reason is simple: Chaplin puts on a show when he directs and nobody knows if he'll ever direct again, so they all want to watch.

CHAPLIN TODAY, is a short, white-haired man, inclined to squint in the bright lights. He had just gotten over a flu and a jacket.

He smiles a lot and sings to himself. And, when he is going into a scene, he acts out all the parts. He showed young Angela Scoular, playing the society girl, how he wanted her to wiggle her shoulders. He showed Brando how he wanted him to stand and look. He danced around the floor, gracefully and yet comically, and the 230 extras and dozens of others laughed and applauded.

He bowed deeply and then smiled. He acted a small bit in the film—playing a seasick steward—and there were tears in a few eyes when he finished. It could very well be Charlie Chaplin's last part.

"A COUNTESS FROM HONG KONG" is the first film he has done in 10 years. He hopes there will be more. "I'm back in the rhythm now," Chaplin said, "and I think I'd like to do another."

He says he's having a wonderful time with this film—"I approach each day like a race horse." Is the way he puts it. "I go home at night, have an old-fashioned gin-and-tonic, watch some TV and fall asleep. But the next morning I'm ready to go again."

The impetus for bringing him out of his retirement, he says, was his son, Sydney. "He's an actor, you know," Charlie said. "And I wanted to show him in a picture with a couple of big stars, like Loren and Brando."

AND SO HE WROTE THE SCRIPT. It is, he says, a light romantic comedy—"the kind of thing that will never go out of style, like making love." He's had the idea for the story for many years.

It has become something of a Chaplin family project. Besides Charlie and Sydney—and Oona's calming presence—Geraldine dropped in to watch her father at work. And she was promptly pressed into service, in a brief bit as one of Brando's dancing partners.

The loudspeaker poured out the music. The extras waited at the tables which ringed the dance floor. Chaplin walked out into the center by himself, a little old man all alone. And then something took hold of him, and he began to dance, swiftly, skillfully, twirling around the floor.

Everyone watched. And when the mood was over, he smiled and bowed low and walked back to where his family waited.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television—Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The end of a man when his dream world is shattered was powerfully depicted Sunday night in CBS-TV's fine adaptation of Arthur Miller's famous "Death of a Salesman."

In two hours of tense, even painful drama we watched an aging, defeated traveling salesman move inexorably to self destruction clinging desperately to the fantasies of quick fortune, fame, of popularity on which he built his shabby life.

Lee J. Cobb, playing the distraught Willy Loman, turned in an overwhelming performance that was as effective as his Broadway portrayal of the role 17 years ago. So was Mildred Dunnock's portrait of his loving, patient and blindly loyal wife.

The drama was related largely in flashbacks to happier days in the story of the salesman — "just a hard-working drummer" as his son screamed in his moment of truth.

Loman's grandiose dreams ballooned everything larger than reality — money he had made in the past was big, a son who had been a stock clerk was inflated to be a star salesman.

His pathetic values, mostly involving being important and well-liked, were shaken with age and faltering sales success. But the fantasies also had destroyed his two sons, Biff, 34, making $28 a week, and who was a petty thief, and Happy, a bum, braggart and liar.

George Segal and James Farentino, playing the sons, gave fine performances.

Earlier in the evening on ABC, "I Am a Soldier" was an absorbing documentary on Viet Nam. It concentrated on one company commander, a West Point graduate, for about three days of combat with the elusive Viet Cong.

We were with Capt. Theodore Daniels and some of his men in training. We went along jungle trails, avoiding booby traps and dodging sniper bullets to find and destroy a Charlie outpost.

The photography was excellent. Producer John Secondari who wrote and narrated the program has an ornate, oratorical style that seemed a little lush for the stark and grim subject matter.

Tower No Place for Clubhouse

NEW YORK (AP) — The tower of the Williamsburg Bridge — 325 feet above the East River — is no place to build a clubhouse. Three young boys learned that the hard way.

The youngsters, Tony Rivers, 12, Edward Galan, 12, and Ismet Muhametaj, 11, began lugging lumber to the bridge tower Monday afternoon. A pedestrian saw them and notified police.

All they wanted, they told the authorities, was their own private little skyclub that couldn't be touched by other youngsters. The police escorted the boys down a flight of stairs to a police station where their parents picked them up.

Petition to Initiate a Legislative Act

TO THE HONORABLE KELLY BRYANT, SECRETARY OF STATE, STATE OF ARKANSAS:
We, the undersigned legal voters of the State of Arkansas, respectfully propose the following Act, to-wit:

(POPULAR NAME)

SCHOOL DISTRICT REORGANIZATION ACT

(BALLOT TITLE)

AN ACT FOR THE PURPOSE OF DISSOLVING ON JUNE 1, 1967 ALL SCHOOL DISTRICTS WHICH HAVE LESS THAN FOUR HUNDRED (400) ENUMERATED STUDENTS ACCORDING TO THE LAST OFFICIAL SCHOOL ENUMERATION; PROVIDING FOR THE ANNEXATION OF THE TERRITORY OF SUCH DISSOLVED SCHOOL DISTRICTS; PROVIDING FOR APPEAL FROM ACTION OF THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION IN ANNEXING TERRITORY OF SUCH DISSOLVED SCHOOL DISTRICTS; PROVIDING FOR THE DISSOLUTION IN THE FUTURE OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS WHEREIN THE NUMBER OF ENUMERATED STUDENTS FALLS BELOW FOUR HUNDRED (400) AS REFLECTED BY TWO CONSECUTIVE OFFICIAL SCHOOL ENUMERATIONS AND PROHIBITING THE ESTABLISHMENT IN THE FUTURE OF ANY SCHOOL DISTRICT WITH LESS THAN FOUR HUNDRED (400) ENUMERANTS; AND AUTHORIZING THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO DEFINE "ISOLATED SCHOOLS" AND TO PROMULGATE RULES FOR ADMINISTERING SUPPLEMENTAL STATE FUNDS FOR THEIR OPERATION.

(TEXT OF INITIATED ACT)

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS:

SECTION 1. On June 1, 1967, all school districts which had less than four hundred (400) enumerated students according to the last official school enumeration are hereby dissolved. In each county of the state, within ten (10) days thereafter, the County Board of Education shall develop and file with the State Board of Education a plan to annex the territory of such dissolved district or districts to another district or districts. The State Board of Education may approve, revise and approve, or reject and require the submission of another plan. With the approval of the State Board of Education the County Board shall forthwith consummate the annexation. If any County Board of Education fails to submit an approvable plan not later than June 30, 1967, the State Board of Education shall make the required annexation.

SECTION 2. Appeals from the action of the County Board of Education on matters of annexation as authorized herein may be reviewed by the Circuit Court of the county wherein said school district or districts is located. In order to obtain such review a notice of appeal must be filed with the Secretary of the County Board of Education in writing within 20 days after the decision of the County Board of Education. Said notice of appeal shall state all exceptions taken to the decision and action of the County Board of Education. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of the notice of appeal the Secretary of the County Board of Education shall prepare, certify and file with the Circuit Clerk of the proper county the entire record of the case including a transcript of all testimony taken at the hearing if a transcript was made. Upon review of any board decision under this act the Circuit Judge shall sit without a jury and may hear oral arguments and receive written briefs but no new evidence may be introduced or offered in Circuit Court except to correct omissions or errors in the record. Such appeal cases shall be heard by the Circuit Court within twenty (20) days after the filing of the record with the Circuit Clerk and such cases shall have precedence over other cases pending in said court. Any party to the review proceedings, including the Board, may appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Circuit Court under rules of procedure applicable in other civil cases.

SECTION 3. No construction shall be given to any part of this Act which would result in impairing the obligations of any valid contract of any school district. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, all matters of reorganization and annexation of school districts undertaken under the provisions of this Act shall be made in accordance with existing laws.

SECTION 4. After the reorganization provided in Section 1 of this Act has been effected: (a) any school district wherein the number of enumerants falls below four hundred (400) as reflected in two consecutive official school enumerations shall be dissolved and the territory of such district shall be annexed in the manner provided in Section 1 hereof; and

(b) no new district shall thereafter be formed with fewer than four hundred (400) enumerants.

SECTION 5. The State Board of Education is hereby authorized and directed to establish criteria for defining "isolated schools" and to promulgate rules and regulations for the administration of supplemental state funds to be allocated to school districts operating such "isolated schools".

SECTION 6. The provisions of this Act are severable, and if any part or provision hereof shall be void, the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining parts or provisions of the Act.

Podres Likes Trade to American

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Veteran left-hander Johnny Podres of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who has been a National League pitcher for his entire 13-year major league career, is excited over the prospects of moving into the American League.

And one big reason is that he will be rejoining Detroit Tiger Manager Charley Dressen, whom Podres broke in under as a rookie with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers announced Monday they had traded Podres to the Tigers for an unnamed player and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Podres has never played for any team but the Dodgers; first in Brooklyn and later in Los Angeles.

In Detroit, Dressen said he plans to get good mileage out of the 33-year-old pitcher.

"I might use him in the bullpen or I might use him as spot starter," Dressen said. "I'll just have to wait and see how he throws."

Podres has pitched only 123 innings so far this season in 27 games last year, he won seven and lost six with an earned run average of 3.43.

Clay, Foster Fight Being Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — A boxing match between heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and Bobby Foster of Washington is being considered by a Washington promoter, the Washington Post said today.

The newspaper quotes promoter Goldie Ahearn saying the June 14 bout at the D.C. National Guard Armory depends on the success of Clay's fight May 21 with Henry Cooper in London.

Falcons Sign a Former Packer

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons announced today that Dan Grimm, a 245-pound guard, formerly with Green Bay, has signed a 1966 Atlanta contract.

The fledgling Falcons of the National Football League acquired Grimm in February's expansion draft. The 25-year-old fireman starred at the University of Colorado and was the Packers' fifth round draft choice in 1963.

Wicker Hits Give Travs a Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Floyd Wicker is picking on Austin and the Arkansas Travelers are edging him on in the Texas League.

He already had batted in eight runs in four games with the Braves, and he outdid himself Monday night trying for an encore.

Wicker first hit a two-run homer that kept Arkansas in the game through regulation time. Then in the 11th he lined a two-out single to drive in the run on which the Travelers won 3-2.

Arkansas moved within 1½ games of league-leading Albuquerque.

Albuquerque had an off night and lost ground as second place Amarillo racked the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs 12-4. That pulled Amarillo within half a game of the lead.

The Sonics racked Spur itching for 15 hits and took advantage of five errors.

Southpaw Paul Doyle held the Spurs to three hits and fanned 11. He had a one-hitter going into the ninth, when Gene Etter tripled to lead an attack that got three runs.

Austin again will be at Arkansas and Amarillo at Dallas-Fort Worth tonight while Albuquerque and El Paso return from their night off after a series at El Paso.

SWC to Honor a Razorback

DALLAS (AP) — Jim Lindsey, Arkansas football star, will be one of the athletes of the year honored here Friday by the Southwest Conference Lettermen's Association.

The graduating Arkansas player is the third footballer to be named for Friday noon's testimonial.

Sharing the tribute will be Marvin Kristynik of Texas and Tom Murrar of Texas A&M, football players; Tudor Lacey, Southern Methodist swimmer, and Dub Malaise, Texas Tech basketball star.

Baylor and Texas Christian representatives will be announced Wednesday. The Rice athlete will be revealed Thursday night.

Star Absent But Aussies Favored

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Margaret Smith, Australia's No. 1 player, was absent, but her country still is favored today at the opening of the 21-nation Federation Cup Tennis Tournament.

The United States is seeded second in the competition billed as the Davis Cup for women.

Julie Heldman of New York, Carol Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long Beach, Calif., are the American team members.

M&M Boys Are Making Like Players Again

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The M&M boys strike again. It had been a while — nearly a year — but Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris finally left their mark on an opponent Monday night as the New York Yankees edged Minnesota 3-2 for their third straight victory since Ralph Houk began his second reign as manager.

Mantle hit his first home run of the season and Maris recorded his second, marking the first time since June 18, 1965, that they had connected in the same game.

The Yankee outfielders gained the label of M&M because of their torrid homer hitting that made them baseball's most awesome twosome in the first half of this decade and powered the Yankees to five consecutive American League pennants.

Last year, however, injuries reduced their effectiveness to where they combined for only 27 homers and connected in the same game only twice.

It was his poor performance in 1965 and his weak start this season that Mantle referred to Saturday night when he talked privately to Johnny Keane after the Yankees fired him and re-named Houk as manager.

"I just told him that I was ashamed to look him in the face," Mantle said, "because since he came here he was the only man I played for that I felt I let down in baseball."

"I really feel like I let him down. I didn't do anything while he was here, and most of the ball club didn't. I still think we have a good ball club and hope we do well. I'm just sorry that if we start going good, he's not here with us."

The Yankees are going well compared with the first 20 games of the season when they won only four times. Mantle, in particular, is going well.

While he drove in only one run in the first 18 games he played, he now has knocked in five of the 11 the Yankees have scored in their three-game winning streak.

Elsewhere in the American League, California outslugged Washington 10-7 and Kansas City whipped Boston 6-1. Cincinnati defeated Atlanta 7-4 in the only National League game.

Cold weather stopped St. Louis at Chicago, rain washed out Los Angeles at Philadelphia and snow stopped San Francisco at Pittsburgh.

Mantle's homer was a 370-foot drive in the fourth inning while Maris' 410-foot blow in the seventh was the 250th of his career and tied the game 2-2. Joe Pepitone then won it for Mel Stottlemyre when he led off the ninth with a homer against Al Worthington.

Bob Rodgers and Ed Kirkpatrick each drove in three runs with a triple and a homer as the Angels made full use of their eight hits. The Senators, who had 14 hits, contributed eight walks to California's attack.

The Athletics rode a four-run fourth inning to their victory. Manny Jimenez tripled in one run and scored on a wild pitch by Boston's Pete Magrini. Jim Lonborg later came on and wild pitched another run across.

Two-run homers by Pete Rose, and Art Shamsky in the third inning carried Cincinnati past Atlanta. Rose had four hits in all while Shamsky also singled and scored in the first on a single by Leo Cardenas. Dennis Menke and Ed Mathews homered for the Braves.

Big Names in Golf in New Orleans Open

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Arnie's Army and Jack's Pack are getting ready to trail their heroes in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tourney. The fairways will also be tramped by a smaller group known as Freddie's Fans.

They'll be following Freddie Haas, who turned 50 in January just in time to win the PGA Seniors crown from a notable old-timer named Sam Snead.

Haas is the sentimental hometown favorite for the 72-hole tourney, which opens Thursday on the plush Lakewood Country Club course. A pro-am preliminary precedes it on Wednesday.

"Don't let age fool you about Freddie," says his close friend, Mike Barbatto, who as Louisiana State University golf coach tutored such topflight touring pros as Lionel and Jay Hebert, Johnny Pott, Gardner Dickinson and Port Weaver.

"He's still one of the best shotmakers in the business and could win this tourney," said Barbatto, now head pro at Timberlane in suburban Gretna — the club Haas calls home.

The lanky, sun-bronzed Haas, who doesn't appear he's a half-century old, admits another big victory would be nice but he also knows the likes of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Doug Sanders — to name a few — will be tough to beat.

The rains which washed out the Houston Champions International Tourney Sunday pushed back the qualifying here for nonexempt pros until today.

Fifty-two pros and 15 amateur battle today at Lakewood for 47 spots in the GNOO field.

Hope to Send 5 Athletes to State Meet

By LARRY DON WRIGHT

Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope tracks teams will send five boys to the State AA track and field meet in Russellville Saturday.

The group, which includes one senior and four junior high entries earned their state berths by placing in the Region 4AA finals at Camden last Friday night. In order to make the cut an athlete had to at least place fourth in his event at the district meet.

The Lone Senior High Bobcat representative is senior sprinter Bobby Samuels. Samuels finished third in the 440 yard dash competition Saturday with a time of 52.5.

Samuels has been the Bobcats do-it-all point man all season despite a nagging injury. He continually participated in at least five events in each meet.

In the Junior Division Jerry Don McWilliams set a new school record in the 120-yard hurdles with a time of 16.0 seconds.

Jimmy Singleton also broke the school record in the 880-yard run, covering the distance in a time of 2:13.1.

Carroll Beck broke still another school record, this one in the shot put, with a heave of 47' 3 1/2".

Ken Koen placed fourth in the 220 yard dash to make the cut with a time of 25.1.

John Spraggins also qualified to make the trip Saturday in the 40 yard dash but will be unable to go for conflicting reasons.

Ice Breakup in Alaska River

Residents lined the Cushman Street bridge downtown watching great cakes of ice float by on the high water.

Civil Defense Director Jack Murphy ordered cranes to stand by at the bridge and at the University Avenue bridge in nearby College in case logs, ice and debris threatened the spans.

Murphy said the water level was about six and a half feet, up two feet from Saturday. Bank level is about 12 feet and the stream was rising rapidly.

Winter Hits Broad Areas of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter clothes were back in style today in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation as no immediate break appeared in a spell of unseasonably cold weather.

The cold air from central Canada which covered much of the Midwest spread into New England and appeared heading into the Southland. The Weather Bureau said the chilly weather might continue for several days.

Freezing weather covered broad areas in the Midwest, including Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois and parts of the Dakotas and Nebraska. The frost line extended across areas in Pennsylvania and New England.

One of two inches of snow fell during a six-hour period in parts of Vermont and New Hampshire as part of a belt of precipitation from the middle Atlantic coast into New England. Earlier three inches of snow fell in Pittsburgh, a record for May. The previous high for the month was 1.8 inches on May 1, 1963.

The snow covering at Lake Placid, N.Y., in the Adirondacks, was four inches and one inch fell at Albany, N.Y., Monday as snow fell in areas from northeastern Ohio across the central Appalachians and parts of upstate New York and New England.

The 23 reading at Lansing, Mich., early today was a record low for May and the 28 at Detroit was a record low for May 10.

It was warmer early today at Anchorage, Alaska, with 41, than at Louisville, Ky., with 35. Early morning temperatures ranged from 23 at Lansing and Marquette, Mich., to 78 at Key West, Fla.

More Attacks on Mr. Sukarno

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) —

An Indonesian armed forces paper called President Sukarno "our virtual dictator" Thursday and accused him of keeping his grip on power by appointing temporary, rubber-stamp legislatures.

It was the strongest attack on Sukarno since he handed over much of his power to Lt. Gen. Suharto on March 11. Until now the new military regime has tried to maintain Sukarno's prestige as a figurehead, apparently in a bid for national unity.

The theme of the meeting was "Leadership For The World We Want." Much helpful information was gained. Each reported a very informative and enjoyable session.

This Fellow Has Money to Burn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Give

Edwin A. Leforte $28 million and what does he do with it? He burns it.

He does it for a living. Monday he did away with $28 million. "It ran a little low," he said. His daily total usually runs around $31 million — sometimes as much as $50 million.

"People seem to get excited about it but it's just so much work. It doesn't mean a thing to us," said the gray-haired Treasury Department employee. "It's just a daily grind; there's nothing to it."

Leforte is chairman of what is known as the Destruction Committee. His main job is to supervise the burning of worn-out paper money in two huge furnaces in the sub-basement of a government building where a tight security guard is maintained night and day.

When Leforte and his men finish their work, only smoke and granulated ash are left.

The ashes are sifted to make certain no particles of bills remain. Fine mesh screen covers the chimney top to prevent any burning bills or ashes from flying out.

Worn-out bills are removed from circulation by the Federal Reserve banks around the country. The Treasury estimates the average life of $1 bills at 18 months, with the life span advancing for bills of larger denominations to almost nine years for $50 bills.

The reserve banks cut the tattered bills in half horizontally and perforate them with a special stamp before they are sent to Washington. A careful audit is made before they are sent to Leforte and his men.

Then — poof! And up go the millions in smoke.

Table above, used by colleges in selecting eligible applicants, indicates maximum federal aid a student might expect depending upon these two key factors. Turkey Kill Set Record

LITTLE ROCK — Although tabulations on the two turkey hunting periods are still trickling in, a record number of turkey kills have already been reported. At present the count stands at 1,570 gobblers have been taken this year.

Desha County still proved to be top turkey producing area with 311 reported kills. Arkansas was second with 194 and Lee County reported 186 for the third best.

Records on turkey kills have been kept since 1956. That year 314 gobblers were killed, and 461 were taken in 1957. Dry weather of 1957 resulted in a bad hatch, and the number of kills began to fall off with 389 in 1958 and 317 in 1959.

"If a hen is in poor physical condition a nesting time, the number of eggs laid will be greatly reduced from what it would be if her condition had been excellent," reports Gene Rush, head of the Game Division of the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission.

Good weather was responsible for heavy reproduction in 1958-59 and the number of turkey kills began to go up in 1960 with 566 birds taken. By 1962 the number rose to 711, continued upward to 788 in 1963, and reached a peak of 1,181 kills by 1964.

Last year's total kill, 976, dropped due to poor weather conditions for hunting and also because of a shorter season.

"We had the birds," said Rush, "but the odds were against the hunter because of poor weather in which to hunt."

Game biologists noted this year that nearly all of the turkeys taken in 1966 were heavy with fat, attributed to an excellent mast crop last year.

One other minor factor involved in setting the record kill was that the hunting periods were longer this year, although the hunting areas were practically the same as last year.

Over the past 10 years, records show that the number of kills has increased fourfold. And no one can deny that it has come about because of the Commission's restocking program with an assist from mother nature.

Bank Versus Boat Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Boat

fishermen enjoy better success than bank fishermen, reports the Ohio Wildlife Division after conducting a recent survey of the two fishing methods. Boat fishermen caught twice as many fish in the experiment, apparently because of their mobility over the bank fishermen.

The study also indicated that bank fishermen are handicapped by being limited to a small area that can be covered effectively by casting or still fishing. Casting from the shore was also hampered by vegetation, and possibly due to the fact that larger fish move to deeper water in warm weather and are often accessible only to boat fishermen.

The use of a boat also enables a fishermen to approach brush-laden areas without disturbing the fish. Some fishermen feel that fish tend to strike baits moving away from overhanging branches rather than lures and baits approaching such shore features.

Florida Black Bass Now Being Stocked

LITTLE ROCK — Over 2,000

Florida largemouth black bass weighing from one-half to 1 1/2 pounds have been released in Lake Greers Ferry in an experimental stocking program.

Stocking factors which led to the selection of the new lake was its clearness and abundance of water type and sizes of food fishes present, and water temperature the fish would enjoy as a result of the lake's depth and volume.

The Florida bass, believed to be a sub-species of the common largemouth black bass native Arkansas, were obtained in the fry stage in an exchange for catfish fry from the State of Florida and were then reared in the Joe Hogan Fish Hatchery at Loneoke over two-year period.

As more Florida bass become available, the Fisheries Division plans to stock the fish in other lakes with environments similar to that of Greers Ferry.

In Florida catches of six-pound Florida bass are common while catches of 15- to 20-pounders are also reported.

Says Light Heavy Boss Too Inactive

NEW YORK (AP) — Wayne

Thornton says light heavyweight champion Jose Torres has been killing the division with his inactivity and he hopes to do something about it.

"I'll take the title from him and try and put some life back into the class," said the handsome, wavy-haired blond challenger from Fresno, Calif.

Torres, winner of the 175-pound division crown 13 months ago, makes his first defense when he takes on Thornton at Shea Stadium May 21. The 29-year-old Puerto Rican-born New Yorker claims an intestinal ailment prevented him from defending the title earlier.

"All I know is that the division has been dead," said Thornton Thursday. "Fans out on the coast kept asking me when I was going to get a shot at the light heavyweight title. Then they'd ask me who the champion was."

Thornton, 26, has been a pro 7 1/2 years. He has won his last six starts, five of them by knockouts. The decision victory was a 12-round over veteran contender Eddie Cotton at Seattle, Wash., a year ago.

Returned Doll by Ambulance
CHESAPEAKE, W. Va. (AP) — Kristine Kinder's doll was sent to a repair shop two weeks ago after its legs were torn off. Kristine's mother, Betty Jo Kinder, arranged to have the doll returned by ambulance to her 6-year-old daughter at school. Dozens of youngsters watched as ambulance attendants solemnly carried the doll into Kristine's first-grade classroom and delivered it, as good as new.

The Yangtze River the longest in China and its principal waterway, has only one bridge across it in its entire course of 3,602 miles. This bridge was built over the Yangtze in 1957 at Hankow. A double-decked road and rail bridge, it is 3,762 feet in length.

When to Try For Overtricks

By JACOB & SON

Once upon a time a good duplicate player fell in with some good rubber bridge players. On the first hand he managed to make an overtrick and was properly complimented by his opponents. In fact, they complimented him so beautifully that in the next few days he lost several rubbers trying for more overtricks.

He should have remembered to try for overtricks in rubber bridge only when the contract is safe.

South was not at all happy with his three no-trump contract. He was particularly fearful of a shift to hearts by East and decided to try to keep East out of the lead if possible. Therefore, he played the ace of clubs from dummy at trick two.

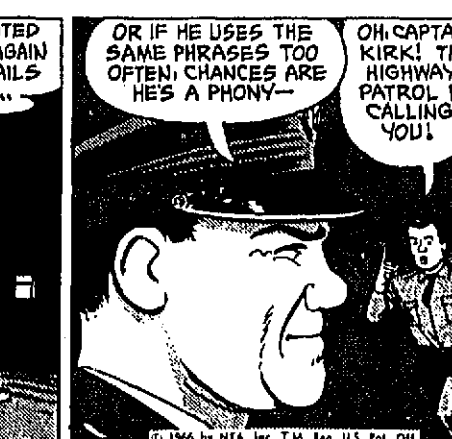

This produced a delightful result. East dropped the king. Now South had nine sure tricks but he decided that he might as well try for ten if he could do so in safety.

He ran off all the clubs and discarded his three of spades on the last club. Then he played a diamond to his king and returned a diamond to ward dummy.

Unfortunately for the defenders West was one of those players who never play a high card when they don't have to. He had held his queen of diamonds and had to play it at this time. South let this queen hold and West was end played.

West had to lead either a heart or spade to give South an extra trick at his three no-trump contract.

Automotive Program Is Organized Here

Local groups met at Town & Country last night and set up a steering committee to form a program to help boys and girls prepare for responsible citizenship in a nation on wheels.

Organizing the program is the Extension Service, National 4-H Service Committee and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. The aim is to prepare the young driver in laws and highway safety and to gain understanding and appreciation of automobile operation.

To assume responsibilities for care, maintenance and efficient operation and to develop attitudes and courtesy habits; explore vocational opportunities in automotive and mechanical fields.

The first class for boys and girls ages 14-17 will be conducted by State Police with June 7 as the tentative date. In addition Hope High School will have a driver's education class this summer.

Authors of Sex Book Get Many Letters

By JERRY CURRY
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Two researchers who wrote a text on sex physiology have been flooded with hundreds of letters since the book was released three weeks ago.

Dr. William H. Masters and a psychologist, Virginia E. Johnson, wrote "Human Sexual Response." The book is based on an 11-year laboratory study at Washington University of sexual stimulation in 694 men and women.

Masters said about 30 per cent of the mail is divided evenly among unsigned crank criticism, honest disagreement, and encouragement. He said the other 70 per cent comes from people with problems of sexual inadequacy.

"In our age it takes courage to admit sexual problems," Masters said. "It has been our experience that after people gather their courage to write us once, they probably won't again unless they are directed toward help in the immediate future."

Mail to the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation, which the team helped to create, has increased measurably since their book's publication April 18. The first printing sold out in three days.

"We are amazed at the response to the book," Masters said. "It was totally unexpected, not only for us but the publishers. They were not prepared for it either. The text was written primarily for the medical and behavioral professions."

"Human Sexual Response," illustrated and written in the matter-of-fact technical language of the scientist, describes bodily processes during sexual relations. A glossary of terms is at the rear of the 365-page volume. The textbook was published by Little Brown and Co. of Boston, Mass.

"I hope people who buy the book will read it," said Masters. "But there is an awful lot of dry reading that will be skipped by those not interested in basic physiology."

Royalties from the book sales will be divided equally among the research foundation, Masters and Mrs. Johnson.

For 18 months, the two scientists have been studying data for a second volume, "Human Sexual Inadequacy." This book will involve clinical applications of their earlier findings.

It has been said that fireworks are as old as civilization.

For Sure, World to Get Crowded
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Population experts are raising the flag on long-range estimates of how many people will inhabit the earth after the turn of the century.

This is reported in a new United Nations booklet on population problems prepared by T.E. Smith of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies at the University of London.

A U.N. report in 1963 said the world's population, estimated at three billion in 1960, might double to six billion by the year 2,000. This was based on assumptions as to trends in fertility and mortality made for various world regions.

The report said also the estimate at the low point could be 5,300,000,000 and at the high point 6,800,000,000.

Governments and international agencies have been using the U.N. estimates as a framework for assessments of future social and economic needs.

In summing up the findings of the second U.N. world population conference, Smith said the participants stressed that it was unwise to take long-range estimates literally because of the many uncertainties that lie ahead.

Cars roll off the auto industry's assembly lines in what sometimes seems limitless color combinations, but car buyers' preferences actually concentrate on a very few shades. In 1965, the 10 top colors accounted for more than three-quarters of all cars sold, the top four alone for almost half. Off-white has been the steady favorite since 1955—reaching a peak of 19.89 per cent of all cars sold in 1961—but a strengthening trend since 1964 has been toward darker colors.

Insurance Ready for Medicare

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Many insurance companies are gearing for the July 1 advent of medicare. It can affect their business in three ways:

First, health and hospitalization policies now in effect for at least 10 million Americans over 65 will lose much of their appeal and are now in process of being updated. Involved is a total of a billion dollars a year in premiums.

Second, new supplementary policies to cover costs that medicare doesn't are being offered by a number of insurance companies, both to the elderly now covered privately and those who aren't but whose interest is aroused by the advent of medicare.

Third, at least to insurance companies and 32 Blue Shield plans will become contractors to the government in the operation of medicare. They will determine reasonable doctor charges and pay these fees under the rules laid out by the Social Security Administration under the second part of medicare — Plan B.

Plan A plan covers hospitalization Plan B — to which the elderly must contribute $3 a month — reimburses them for many medical expenses, not included in Plan A.

After the insurance companies pay the doctors, hospitals, and others, they will collect from the Social Security Administration.

In addition the 76 Blue Cross-Blue Shield operations in the nation with 5.7 million subscribers will offer some medicare supplements, both in and out of the hospitals.

Although most insurance companies with existing hospital and health policies are preparing new plans after medicare starts, some will push them hard while others will not. The latter will let present subscribers take the modified policies but won't go after new business.

Pushing for new sales to supplement medicare, which covers most but not all medical expenses, will be such companies as Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, Aetna Life & Casualty, Continental Casualty. The more passive approach will be taken by Bankers Life & Casualty, Metropolitan Life Insurance, and Mutual of Omaha. Some others are expected to get out of the field altogether as likely to be unprofitable after the government steps in.

Interest in Recognition of Mongolia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials were reported looking with renewed interest today at the possibility of opening diplomatic relations with Mongolia, a pro-Soviet Communist country in central Asia bordering the Soviet Union and Red China.

The move was proposed Monday by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. He said it would help to ease international tensions and provide the United States with "a valuable listening post" at a strategic point of the rivalry between Red China and the Soviet Union.

The State Department was silent on Mansfield's proposal but policymakers are known to believe that it would work to U.S. advantage. However, the government of Nationalist China on Formosa has opposed U.S. recognition of Mongolia in the past. It regards that remote land as a part of China.

The issue of U.S. nonrecognition policy toward Mongolia arose in its sharpest form in 1961 after the Soviet Union insisted that if the African country of Mauritania was to be given a seat in the United Nations Mongolia must be admitted at the same time.

As a result U.S. diplomats in Moscow discussed recognition with Mongolian diplomats and found that the Mongolian government was agreeable to establishing diplomatic relations. Action was blocked, however, by Nationalist China which, as a member of the U.N. Security Council, threatened to veto Mongolian membership in the United Nations.

The political tangle thus created was straightened out when the United States dropped its recognition plan and both Mauritania and Mongolia were voted into the world organization.

Since that time U.S. policy on the recognition question has been reviewed periodically but without any publicly known action being taken.

Clip Petition on Pages 3 and 4 and Circulate It

We are printing back-to-back on Pages 3 and 4 of today's edition the two sides of a document so that when you clip it out of the newspaper you will have a complete blank Petition: To Initiate a Legislative Act — the School District Organization Act.

It is suggested that you cut out the Petition, circulate it for signatures, and then bring it to the newspaper office for notarization — we'll take care of mailing it to the sponsor, Joshua K. Shepherd, 1500 W. Fourth St., Little Rock.

A couple of cautions are in order:

1. Handle the solicitation for signatures yourself. Don't "farm out" your Petition to someone else — for when you bring it into the Notary Public you have to swear you did the circulating and personally saw these people sign their names and addresses and voting precincts.

2. Only legally-qualified voters are permitted to sign. Remember to ask every prospect if he is a registered citizen before accepting a signature.

What's the Petition about? Well, it was very much in the news a few months ago. The Arkansas Education Association was going to sponsor it, but was blocked by a filibuster of some of the smaller rural schools. So the sponsorship has been taken by Joshua K. Shepherd, Little Rock insurance man and state-wide leader in school legislation.

What would the Petition do? It would enable the people of the state to vote at the next general election on the School District Organization Act.

What would the Act do? It would require the consolidation of school districts with fewer than 400 enrollment.

Is this arbitrary or wrong? Well, there are some microscopic school districts on Arkansas which raise very little tax money of their own, live almost entirely off state funds, yet insist on running their district in its own high-cost way.

But if the people of all the state have to foot the bill for these districts then they should also have the right to regulate them, consolidating districts where it will mean an improvement in schooling for the same or even less money.

Neither this writer nor his newspaper has ever dabbled in local school consolidation matters. But the School District Organization Act is a state-wide and impersonal proposal. It appears to be a necessary and reasonable reform. And if you circulate today's Petition you will help yourself to a chance to vote on it in the next general election.

The circulation of Petition blanks through a newspaper is not a new idea, and is very definitely legal. I used the idea myself in 1955 and again in 1957 when sponsoring state-wide petitions — and it was effective.

I have offered this Petition-in-a-Newspaper idea to Mr. Shepherd's office and understand he proposes to use it state-wide. Copies of today's Star are going to his office in a special mailing tonight. He will probably approach the daily papers direct, and I suggested an appeal to the Arkansas Press Association to help get his request before the more numerous weeklies.

Injunction Permanent on Firemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has granted a permanent injunction prohibiting railroad firemen from striking in an attempt to restore 18,000 jobs knocked out by an arbitration award two years ago.

The AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen said it would appeal the ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff. Union President H.E. Gilbert called the decision "an unbelievable conglomeration of inconsistencies."

The ruling made permanent a temporary injunction Holtzoff had granted earlier at the railroad's request. It froze the situation for firemen in the complex legal argument which triggered last month's strike by firemen against eight carriers operating in 38 states.

Red China May Have Come Up With a Dud

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China may have come up with a dud in an attempt to detonate a hydrogen bomb, Defense Department sources suggested today.

The announcement by Peking radio of Communist China's third atomic explosion Monday said the test included "thermonuclear materials." But Peking stopped short of calling it a hydrogen bomb.

The mention of "thermonuclear materials," Pentagon sources said, could mean one of two things:

—Chinese scientists attached deuterium or tritium, used in a hydrogen weapon to an atomic bomb to analyze the effects of the blast on those elements.

—Or China set out to stage a hydrogen explosion and failed to get the proper energy release required to fuse the thermonuclear reaction.

A hydrogen bomb has an atomic device for a trigger. Millions of degrees of heat—provided by the splitting of the atom—are required to fuse the deuterium or tritium elements—and release their awesome power. The atomic device can, however, go off without unleashing the fusion process.

State Department press officer Marshall Wright said the test was "in the same general range" as the two previous Red Chinese detonations in October 1964 and May 1965. Both of these were equivalent to about 20,000 tons of TNT, or 20 kilotons. Wright did not say whether the test was of a thermonuclear device.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, asked about the test as he appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he doubts it affects the international situation any more than did the first or second detonations.

One Atomic Energy Commission official described the blast as "one hundred KT (kilotons) or less."

"We don't know yet whether this was a thermonuclear explosion," he said, "and we won't before we get a reading on the atmospheric debris."

Pentagon sources said manned U2 planes would collect radioactive debris. An analysis of the fallout, combined with seismicographic readings, would perhaps provide a key to the type of detonation.

A thermonuclear blast would put the Red Chinese an estimated three years ahead of schedule in their work, according to U.S. estimates.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, AEC chairman, said in 1964 after the first Chinese nuclear test that Red China probably was five years away from developing a hydrogen bomb.

As late as last October, however, Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., said Red China might set off its first thermonuclear blast within two years.

Jackson is chairman of the Joint Atomic Weapons subcommittee.

Dissent in China Is Suspected

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's announcement today of its third nuclear explosion strongly indicates that the wave of dissidence on the mainland may be deeper and more widespread than suspected abroad.

The gravity of the "anti-party, antisocialist" movement within China — now apparently the subject of a purge on a scale exceeding that of the "anti-rightist" campaign of 1957 — was pointed up by the repeated reference in the nuclear test announcement of the "thoughtful" and leadership of China's 72-year-old party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

The statement said the complete success of the explosion was ensured by the fact that the scientists, technicians, military workers and others involved held high Mao's banner and "gave prominence to politics," creatively studied Mao's works and followed his policies. It called the feat a "great victory for Mao Tse-tung's thought."

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The second of two sister ships built for the Environmental Science Services Administration has been launched at Norfolk Shipbuilding & Drydocks Corp. The coast survey ship Davidson will join the MacArthur, launched last November, in oceanographic research work.

Astronauts Go Into Rehearsal

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's next pair of astronauts climb into their Gemini 9 spaceship today and rehearse the complex dual countdown that will send them rocketing aloft next Tuesday to test skills needed to land on the moon.

Before next week's three-day space adventure concludes, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan is to take a record-duration space walk and use a rocket-powered back pack.

Command pilot Thomas P. Stafford is to steer Gemini 9 on several rendezvous attempts with an Agena target satellite and jolt Gemini 9 into a new orbit by firing the 16,000-pound-thrust Agena engine while their spacecraft is hooked up with it.

Nebraska Is Holding a Primary Tues.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The bids for nominations for governor — both Democratic and Republican — spotlighted Nebraska's primary election today.

At issue in the races was Nebraska's tax system. The state now has neither a sales nor an income tax.

In the Democratic field were three state officials: Lt. Gov. Philip C. Sorenson, younger brother of Theodore Sorenson, a top aide to President John F. Kennedy; State Sen. Jules Burbach, three-time chairman of the legislature's budget committee; and Henry F. Ley, who resigned as state banking director to enter the race.

On the Republican side there is Val Peterson, who served three consecutive terms as governor and later was national civil defense chief and ambassador to Denmark; and four candidates considered newcomers.

Has Rare Distinction of Working Only for Two Top Figures in the Film World

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Tippi Hedren, who is as cool and lovely as a vanilla ice cream cone, has served only two masters in a brief, spectacular film career. Alfred Hitchcock, after seeing her in a television commercial, picked the exciting young blonde to star in two of his thrillers.

Then Charlie Chaplin chose her.

It rarely falls to the lot of a screen newcomer to work consecutively for two such top directors. The experience certainly thrilled Miss Hedren, and left her a bit worried about whom she will work for next.

"It is hard to compare Hitch and Charlie," she said over a cup of coffee.

"Both are taskmasters and demand perfection. But they arrive at it from different directions.

"Hitch directs through conversation and vocabulary. He tells you clearly what he wants. "But Charlie? Well, it's like watching all his old movies. He takes the part of each character in turn and acts it out himself."

Tippi, who started as a model at the age of 13 in a Minneapolis department store, isn't sure just what she'll do next.

"I don't want to wait myself

Stock Market Rallies After Sudden Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rebounded strongly in heavy trading today from Monday's steep loss.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 9.46 points to 896.26. It had been ahead 12.03 an hour earlier.

It was a complete reversal from Monday's action, which saw the Dow Jones average fall 18.03 points in the worst loss since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22, 1963.

The advance was broad-based with blue chips gaining $1 to $2 a share and gains by high-flying issues running up to $5.

Some brokers described the rally as a technical snapback from the sharp losses of Monday and last week.

These setbacks were blamed in part on announcements of automobile production cutbacks by General Motors, Corp., and Ford Motor Co.

Mao Emerges After Absence of 6 Months

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung emerged today from a six-month absence from public view to meet with an Albanian government delegation led by Premier Mehmet Shehu.

The Communist New China News Agency reported the meeting. Mao's long period in apparent seclusion had resulted in speculation that he was seriously ill.

Graduation at Bodcaw High School

Baccalaureate services for the Bodcaw Seniors will be Sunday, May 15 at 8 p.m. in the Bodcaw No. 2 Baptist Church. Rev. Jimmy Lewis will preach the baccalaureate sermon, Wallace Cheatham, Supt. announced.

Commencement exercises will be Thursday, May 19 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Dr. Frank L. Irwin, Chairman, Division of Education, Southern State College, will deliver the commencement address.

The 8 candidates for diplomas are as follows: Carolyn Cranor, Allen Hicks, James Loe, Ola Mae McKamie, Raymond Mitchell, Gary Morehead, James Vines, and James H. Wade, Jr. Valedictorian is James H. Wade, Jr. Salutatorian is Allen Hicks.

out of this business," she said frankly, "but working for Hitch and Charlie has been very special to me, and now I'm going to wait for something special to come along."

Behind Tippi's petal-pretty face dwells a firm and methodical mind, inherited from Swedish ancestors.

"I don't let myself be afraid of anybody," she remarked. "And I don't let myself have unknown fears. If you let yourself be afraid of the unknown in this business, you'd go under very fast."

Here are her likes:

"Sunshine, my daughter, Saturday and Sunday, swimming pools, simple living — as long as I can live simply in Rome, Paris, London, Cairo or New York — all pets, light green and beige colors, gold and pearl jewelry, Sophia Loren, politics, the smell of garlic cooking, vitally alive people and laughing."

And she dislikes:

"Making phone calls, petty people, straggly hairdos, women you can't tell from men and men you can't tell from women, rebellious children, traffic jams, rutabagas, eels and brussels sprouts, people who just want to get by, who are incompetent and content to stay that way."

WALKOUT AVERTED—South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, left, conferring with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, headed off a threatened walkout of Buddhists from the committee arranging national elections to be held within the next few months. He signed a document giving the 32-man body official status.

Ford Also Cuts Back, Blames Safety Issue

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Two of the auto industry's top leaders say the auto safety issue has hurt car sales.

Arjay Miller, president of Ford Motor Co., referred to the "harassment" of the auto safety issue Monday in reporting a slowdown in Ford production.

Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors and of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, added today:

"Up to now, there have been conflicting sales reports from field offices. Some areas have reported a depressing effect on sales as a result of the Washington hearings; others report little or no effect."

"The latest survey, completed by our marketing consultants on Monday, shows that the hearings are having a negative effect on sales."

Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend stuck by his assertion that "we will not know for some time yet what effect auto safety discussions and hearings have had on sales." He added that "we are keeping close tabs on it."

General Motors President James M. Roche said Thursday in a telephone conversation with Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., that he did not believe the auto safety probe had hurt sales.

Abernethy and Miller pulled no punches in describing the safety hearings and attendant publicity as key parts of the cloudy automotive sales picture.

Ford became the second of the automotive Big Three to show down production when it announced Monday that its May car quota had been reduced from 261,000 to 242,000 — a seven per cent cut. The latter figure, if attained, still would be the highest of any May in Ford history.

In its cutbacks last week, GM put four plants on short work schedules. It said eight others would be idled one to three days during the rest of this month.

Ford's slowdown was based on a different technique, eliminating planned Saturday overtime at some plants. Ford said all its production employees would work regular five-day weeks during the remainder of the month and that limited overtime would be used in some plants.

Bids on 4 More Trade Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bids on four more state trade schools will be opened here May 17 by the state Board of Education.

The state has allocated 1.5 million for constructing and equipping the schools at El Dorado, Marked Tree, Harrison and Forrest City.

Vocational-technical schools are under construction at Hope, Ozark, Burdette and Searcy and in operation at Pine Bluff and Morrilton.

Ex-Aide Sees Full Scale V. Nam War

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)

President Johnson faces a full-scale war in Viet Nam, says a former White House aide, while the late President John F. Kennedy faced only a "small-scale insurrection."

Theodore Sorenson, an aide to both presidents, told a Union College audience Monday that, because of the different conditions confronting the two men, it was unfair to speculate what Kennedy might have done if he had not been assassinated.

Both Johnson and Kennedy, he said, sought the same "basic objectives," he said these were a commitment to protect the Vietnamese people from a Communist take-over while avoiding a general war in Asia.

Medical Students Gong to Jungle

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Two St. Louis University medical students will go to South Viet Nam to work in a jungle hospital this summer provided they raise the $2,000 travel fare.

Sophomores Peter Collins, 24, of Stockton, Calif.; and Peter Terry, also 24, of Kewanee, Ill., said that a medical aid group, Project Concern, has agreed to let them work at their hospital 150 miles north of Saigon.

Two area students assisted in hosting the 11th annual SW Arkansas Regional Science Fair at Southern State College. Carolyn Hatfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hatfield of Hope served as a guide. She is a sophomore accounting major, is a member of the Women's Recreational Association and Tri-C. and Charles Trexler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trexler of Emmet, helped in setting up exhibits and posters. He is a junior chemistry major.

Terrorists Set Off Blast in Heart of Saigon

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists exploded a mine in the heart of Saigon today, and U.S. sentries turned one of the capital's busy streets into a blood-drenched battleground.

Five persons were killed and 29 to 32 were wounded, most of them by American fire. The dead included a Vietnamese policeman, three Vietnamese women and a child. Eight Americans and at least 21 Vietnamese civilians were reported wounded.

A U.S. Army spokesman said there was no evidence of Viet Cong fire in the half-hour fusillade that followed the mine explosion. He told a news conference that an American MP opened fire and that other MPs thought they were being fired on and began spraying the streets with machine guns and automatic weapons. Crowds of Vietnamese on their way to work ran in terror or fell under the hail of bullets.

Seven Vietnamese suspected of planting the bomb were arrested, but all were cleared and released, the spokesman said.

"Our hearts go out to the innocent victims of this affair," the U.S. Embassy said in a statement.

"The root cause for it is, of course, the Viet Cong. The mission is deeply sympathetic to the innocent victims of this event and is prepared to help in every way we can those who found themselves in the way of the fire this morning."

An embassy spokesman said the families of victims would be paid compensation in accordance with normal procedure in such cases.

Alford Will Form Panel of Advisors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dale Alford of Little Rock, a Democratic candidate for governor, said Monday night he would seek the aid of a blue-ribbon cabinet of advisors if he is elected.

Another candidate, Jim Johnson, will go on a statewide telecast tonight to reveal "who are the real candidates" in the Democratic campaign. He said he will "take the mask off the power structure" he claims has dominated gubernatorial politics.

Alford spoke Monday night to a civic club at Clarendon.

The panel of "the most astute business, agricultural, labor, social, civic and intellectual leaders of our state" would serve either for nothing or $1 a year if volunteered services were ruled unconstitutional, he said.

Members of the panel would have to be confirmed by the Arkansas Senate, he said, and the terms of two would be rotated each two years.

Alford said he would ask the major constitutional officers of the state to sit with the advisory panel.

He expressed doubts about the advantages of limiting the term of governor to four years with no provision for the incumbent to succeed himself.

"There will be no improvement at all in state government merely as a result of changing the tenure of the governor," he said. "A bad governor still would be able to do a great deal of harm in four years, and a good governor might not be able to do all of which he is capable in that length of time."
